

An Chartlann Náisiúnta
National Archives

AUTUMN EVENING LECTURES IN THE NATIONAL ARCHIVES

The National Archives evening lecture series for 2019 continues into the autumn with the following free talks taking place in our Reading Room at 6pm:

Tuesday 24 September

'The genealogy of an Irish workhouse: guardians, staff and inmates of the Poor Law' by Clare Doyle
(Member, Accredited Genealogists Ireland)

Tuesday 12 November

'The Griffith Valuation and its place in Irish genealogy' by Michael Walsh
(Member, Accredited Genealogists Ireland)

No booking is required and all are welcome to join us!